California State Lottery employee says:

“In fact, our very first daily draw game launched back in 1990 and was called Decco. Decco offered players a number match play style with an additional playing card component, offering a unique game experience. And Decco was a fan favorite for the next seven years. Little Lotto was the next game to draw daily that was introduced in 1991. Little Lotto was big fun and gave players a daily chance to match six numbers. Little Lotto evolved into the current player favorite, Fantasy 5, where players can fantasize big for just $1 while trying to match five numbers and enter their Fantasy 5 tickets into 2nd Chance. Since the 1990s, the California Lottery has had numerous new additions to the daily draw game family.”
