

Training Tomorrow's Heroes at Glendale Community College's Fire Academy Transcript

[Opening screen displays California Lottery logo and reveals the words "Schools rely on California Lottery funding"]

[Video shows Edgar Ramirez, a Fire Technology Cadet at Glendale Community College, dressed in firefighter gear followed by the Cadet team prepping for their manipulative final exam at the training facility.]

Edgar Ramirez says:

"When I found out the California Lottery helps out for my program I thought that was great. It allows me to give my undivided attention to the fire academy. Without their backing, it's just one more cost that I'd have to worry about. This morning, we're prepping for our manipulative final exam. Right now, we're pulling hoses, getting ladders ready. I wanted to become here because it allows me to pursue my dream of becoming a firefighter. To me, there's no bigger act of service than to be there for the community that raised you."

[Video shows Edgar Ramirez, a Fire Technology Cadet at Glendale Community College, dressed in firefighter gear.]

Edgar Ramirez says:

"Thank you, California Lottery."

[Closing screen displays California Lottery logo and reveals the words "You play, schools win"]